

How Can I Help?

Jayma Reaggs, CPA

“I enjoy helping clients maintain an accurate and clean set of books so that they can better understand how their business is doing throughout the year.”

Jayma’s approach to meeting the needs of her clients is simple; she listens to their concerns and provides them options to simplify their business challenges. Jayma has eight years of experience in public accounting, all of which have been with Acuity Advisors and CPAs.

Although Jayma developed industry knowledge by working with a wide variety of industries including construction, retail, manufacturing and many service companies, her focus is on providing services to closely-held, smaller businesses. Jayma’s clients benefit from her proactive and engaged approach whether dealing with tax compliance and planning, general accounting services, financial statement preparation, small business consulting or accounting software solutions.

Jayma graduated from Elizabethtown College where she received her Bachelor of Science degree in accounting. She is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants and is a QuickBooks ProAdvisor.

Jayma resides in Elizabethtown with her husband and daughter. She is an active member of Community Bible Church in Marietta.
