

How Can I Help?

Michael P. Peachey, CPA

“My greatest professional reward comes from building and enhancing client relationships by listening to their needs, then providing solutions that offer true value and make a real impact.”

Michael knows that a successful client relationship is measured by results, and that results only come from taking the time to thoroughly understand each client’s business and needs. He cites a recent example, when he used his knowledge of a client’s operations to design a management information system that would clearly identify the profitability of three separate divisions. After implementing the system, the client was able to recognize trends that led to pricing and costing changes, which in turn transformed an unprofitable division into one that began making a material contribution to the company.

Specializing in production agriculture and agribusiness, Michael manages financial and tax reporting services and provides tax planning and management advisory services. Michael is a member of the Agricultural Issues Forum and the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce & Industry Agriculture Committee. He is also a member of the Blue Ribbon Commission for Lancaster County Agriculture, Northeast Dairy Accounting Standards Council, Penn Ag Industries and Professional Dairy Managers of Pennsylvania. In addition, Michael is a member of the American and Pennsylvania Institutes of Certified Public Accountants.

Michael graduated from Goshen College with honors, majoring in accounting. He resides in Lititz with his wife and four children.
