

Randolph S. Sensenig, CPA

“There are two aspects that I find most rewarding about public accounting. One is being able to help clients define their financial goals, and the other is helping them achieve them.”

Randy has more than two decades of experience in serving a broad base of clients. During his tenure with the firm, he has developed strong client relationships over multiple generations. For example, he has assisted a number of businesses in transferring ownership to the second and even the third generation of family members.

Randy has many key roles at Acuity Advisors. He has expertise in information technology, leads a general practice unit and serves as the audit partner. Among his industry-segment specialties are retailers, wholesalers, professional service firms (attorneys, architects, engineers, etc.), local government units, and public and private schools.

Randy is a graduate of Bloomsburg University, where he majored in business administration, and is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants. He is the father of three children and enjoys outdoor sports, including golf and skiing.
